MORSE'S

Are Young Students Required To Get Up To Early.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, who writes of Sleep in the September American Magazine, criticizes boarding schools sharply for getting young people up too early in the morning. He says: "A baby or young child should have absolutely every minute of sleep that it can be induced to take, and sleeplessness is even more emphatically a sign of disease in children than in adults. The necessity and capacity for large amounts of refreshing sleep persists up to adult life and the amount required seldom falls below ten hours before the eighteenth or twentieth year.

"To make children or rapidly growing young adults get up before they have had their sleep out, and feel thoroughly rested, is not merely irrational but cruel and when it is done as a routine practice at boarding schools, or other institutions, by those who pretend to be fitted to have the care of children it is little short of criminal."

WILLS TO LOVED-ONE

Dying Powder Worker Remembers His Sweetheart.

DRAWN UP BY ROUGH FRIENDS

Unusual Instrument Will be Admitted to Probate Although Not Signed by W. J. Nowland—Death is Grim End of a Romance of Many Years Standing

KENOSHA, Wis., August 30.—A romance in the grim life of a powder maker was revealed here Thursday when friends of W. J. Nowland, one of the three men killed by a powder blast at the Laffin-Rand plant in the town of Pleasant Prairie yesterday, offered his will for probate in the County Court. By the terms of the will all the property of Nowland, which amounts to nearly $3000, will be paid to Mrs. Agnes King of Delaware Gap, Pa., the sweetheart of the dead powder maker.

The will is the most unusual paper of the kind ever brought to the Kenosha courts for probate. It was never seen by the testator, but the two witnesses to the will make affidavit that it was at his request that the paper now brought forward was drawn as his will.

Nowland was dying just after noon yesterday when he called Clark Davis and another of the men employed at the powder plant to his bed.

"What do you want, Shorty?" said Davis, and the dying man lifted his charred face from the pillow and smiled. "Boys," said the dying man, "I have a sweetheart at Delaware Gap, Pa., and I want her to have all the money that I am going to leave behind me. She is Agnes King, and I want you fellows to draw up this will for me and I will sign it."

Nowland never affixed his signature to the document, for while the two men were drawing it in their rough way the dying man gasped and died. It is generally thought the will will be admitted to probate and that the estate be turned over to his sweetheart.

HAS DEPUTATION POWER.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 30.—Attorney General Stead today gave out an opinion to the effect that when the state's attorney of a county specially deputizes a person to appear in a justice or police court to represent the state's attorney that the state's attorney is entitled to the fees which accrue in the case. The opinion was rendered on question of the States' Attorney, Scholes, of Peoria County and State's Attorney Gordon, of La Salle County. Attorney General Stead had in a previous opinion held that the state's attorney must appear in court in order to secure his fees in the cases which were up. In populous counties like Peoria, Sangamon, La Salle and Adams it was sometimes impossible for either the state's attorney or his assistants to be in the court, and the state's attorneys have been in the habit of deputizing an attorney to take their place and represent the state.

The question at issue was whether under the rulings of the attorney general previously made, that the state's attorney must appear in court in order to receive his fees in the state, the attorney not an assistant of the state's attorney would constitute an appearance of the state's attorney in the case.

TAFT AT DENVER.

DENVER, Aug. 30.—Many Republican leaders met Secretary Taft on his arrival at 6:30 o'clock, and a large crowd gathered at the station and cheered the secretary. Taft and his party and 30 other guests were taken in automobiles to Wolhurst, Thomas F. Walsh's country place, several miles south, where they breakfasted. Taft afterwards inspected Fort Logan, with a view of converting it into a brigade post. A general reception was held at noon at the Denver Republican Club. Afterward a hundred prominent republicans of Colorado lunched with the secretary at the Brown Palace Hotel. Taft will deliver a public address in the capitol grounds at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

"Everybody Should Know" says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn, wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and know what I'm talking about." Charles Rogers, druggist, 25c.

Every Man May Be A King.

David Grayson writes wonderfully of books and reading in the September American Magazine. He says:

"What a convenient and delightful in this world of books. It has vast advantages over the ordinary world of daylight, of barter and trade, of work and worry. In this world every man is his own King. Invite any one of them to talk, and if your highness is not pleased with him you have only to put him back in his corner—and bring some jester to sharpen the laughter of your highness, or some poet to set your faintest emotions to music!

"I have marked a certain servility in books. They entreat you for a in books. They entreat you for a hearing they cry out from their cases—like men, in an eternal struggle for survival, for immortality.

"Take me," pleads this one, "I am responsive to every mood. You will find in me love and hate, virtue and vice. I don't preach I give you life as it is. You will find here adventures cunningly linked with romance and seasoned to suit the most fastidious taste. Try me!"

"Hear such talk!" cries his neighbor. "He's fiction. What he says never happened at all. He tries hard to make you believe it, but it isn't true, not a word of it. Now, I'm fact. Everything you find in me can be depended upon."

"Yes," responds the other, "but who cares! Nobody wants to read you, you're dull."

"Your'e false!"

"As their voices grow shriller with argument your highness listens with the indulgent smile of royalty when its courtiers contend for its favor, knowing that their very life depends upon a wrinkle in your august brow."
